

MALMGREN MAY BE ALIVE, ACCORDING TO LATEST ADVICES

Announcement of Explorer's Death Was Error of The Relief Commission

MESSAGES INDEFINITE

He Suffered A Broken Wrist And Legs Were Frozen

MOSCOW, July 13.—(INS)—Fresh wireless advices from the Russian ice breaker Krassin today showed that the Soviet Noble Relief Committee was in error when it formally announced yesterday that Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish scientist with the Noble expedition, had died on a floe a month ago and that his body had been taken aboard the steamship.

All announcements concerning the alleged death of Prof. Malmgren had been given out by the Soviet Relief Committee as radiograms from the Krassin.

Capt. Samoylovich, master of the Krassin, after proceeding to the floe where the little group of refugees under Lieut. A. Viglieri was marooned and picking them up, sent further radio reports throwing fresh light upon the fate of Prof. Malmgren.

According to the latest advices there is hope that Malmgren may still be alive. The story told by these messages follows:

Prof. Malmgren suffered a broken wrist and frozen legs. Realizing that he could not keep up with his companions, Alfredo Mariano and Filippo Zappi, the disabled scientist begged to be left behind at Brook Island so that he would not jeopardize the others' chances of safety.

Malmgren, according to these dispatches, finally induced his comrades to leave him at the islands and to proceed alone. After long argument they consented.

The mystery over the announcement of Malmgren's death was deepened by the detail which accompanied it. These details gave the announcement every appearance of authenticity.

JONES PITCHES LEEDOM TEAM TO VICTORY

Makes Good First Time in Carpet Weaver's Uniform

FINAL SCORE WAS 2 TO 0

Schedule for Tonight
ST. ANN'S VS. INDEPENDENTS

By T. M. Juno

Jones made his debut in a Leedom's uniform last night by pitching his new mates to a shut out victory of the lived-up A. O. H. nine. "Bill" Fine also made his debut and was the only player on his side able to solve "Jimmy" Lake's slants. He found him for three solid hits. The final score was 2-0.

Lake pitched excellent ball but could not seem to get away from "Bill" Fine's war club.

The teams are now getting some real pitching, as in the last five games four victories were whitewashings and the losing team in the other games scored but one lone tally.

Dave Rodgers' running catch of Riola's short fly featured.

Leedom's took the lead in the opening frame. Cooper walked, Connors fanned and was thrown out at first after J. Brady dropped the ball. Cooper advanced to second on the play. Fine singled to left, counting Cooper. White rolled to Lake. Riola hit to Margerum and went out at first.

The Hibos were easy outs in their part. Thompson grounded to Riola. Dougherty tapped in front of the home platter and was thrown out by White. Margerum was passed. J. Brady lifted to Connors.

Lake made fast work of the carpet-baggers in the second. Mangan hit to Margerum and sat down. Wilkerson walked. Cochrane hit Lake and walked to the water bucket. Margerum hit to Holden retired the side on Jones' hopper.

The Hibernians ate out of Jones' hands in their half. McGinley fanned. Holden grounded out to the pitcher. H. Brady received a complimentary ticket. McClafferty breezed.

The carpetmakers counted one more in their third. Holden pocketed Cooper's left. Connors singled and socked when Fine socked another one to left for two bags, tallying Connors. White grounded to Thompson. Thompson caught Riola's fly.

Lake struck out to begin the Hibernians' third. Thompson received four wide ones. Thompson stole second. Dougherty hit to Jones and Thompson was run down between second and third. Fine tagged him out. Riola threw out Margerum.

Leedom's caused no damage in the fourth. Mangan struck out. Wilkerson reached first on Margerum's error but Lake caught him napping by a quick throw to Holden. Cochrane's hot liner was stopped by Lake who threw him out.

A. O. H. lost a chance to score in their part. J. Brady grounded out. McGinley beat out a tap in front of the plate. Holden singled. H. Brady perched a hit to right and McGinley went out trying to score. Rodgers batted for McClafferty and hit to Jones.

One, two, three went the Mulholl.

Here's a List of "Dont's" For Hot Weather Bathers

Appalling Loss of Life by Drowning Due to Carelessness

By JAMES Y. KEENE
International Illustrated News Sports Editor

AROUSE! at dispatches telling of the death by drowning of more than half a hundred persons over the Fourth of July holiday. Olympic swimming experts have prepared a list of "dont's" designed to reduce the number of fatalities.

Almost every case of drowning at a lake or beach can be prevented if bathers exercise ordinary precautions, these officials declare.

Here are the rules laid down:

Do not enter the water while overheated. If overheated when you reach the beach or lake, get into a bathing suit and relax in the shade until cooled off.

Do not enter the water after a meal. Wait at least an hour, preferably more, after eating. The stomach should be assisted in digesting the food.

Don't go beyond your depth. This is important for all swimmers and absolutely essential for beginners.

Don't take chances with undertows. These usually are marked out, or at least indicated at the beaches. If not, and you feel yourself in an undertow, get out of it.

Don't lounge in the sun in a bathing suit. Sunstroke, dizziness and headaches caused by over-exposure to the sun are among the most common causes of drowning. Stay in the shade when not in the water, or wear a hat to protect the head from the sun's direct rays.

Don't get out of halting distance of other bathers.

Don't confuse silliness with bravery. Don't think it makes you look brave to take unnecessary chances. It merely advertises to the world how silly you are.

Don't show off. More than half the drownings every year result from misguided attempts to impress others with the skill and courage of the swimmer. Be natural. Be careful.

SUN'S RAYS AND WATER COMBINED BRING OUT VARIED COLORS OF THE RAINBOW IN THE FORM OF MANY BATHING COSTUMES

River, Creek and Canal All Changed to Bathing Beaches and Swimming "Holes" During Hot Spells — Young and Old Enjoy Splashing

We are told that the combination of sun and water brings out the colors of the rainbow. We believe it thoroughly, especially at the present time, for a visit to the bathing beaches hereabouts where the banks are decked with every imaginable shade of bathing costume, would quickly convince one.

Like so many frogs do the youngsters follow each other to the water, disappearing for a minute. With a leap into the air the less experienced ones touch the flowing liquid with each foot and each arm extending in a different direction.

Squalls, shouts and merry laughter, accompanied by the quick splashes and splatters of water, make a joyful sound these warm days, and the on-lookers are numerous.

Mother does not stay at home just because the baby is small and must be watched closely. Donning a bathing suit and armed with a blanket to guard baby's health as it plays upon the ground, she makes her way to the nearest bathing beach, and proceeds to enjoy herself, at the same time keeping one eye on the infant who creeps about the blanket on the bank.

Many a race is staged, with the older spectators enjoying it just as thoroughly as the participants. The girls, less brave than their companions, then try to keep out of the reach of the swains who quickly swim after them to administer a "ducking."

Sometimes the iron paling fence that lines the canal for a short distance to one side of the Washington street

ANOTHER TREVOSE MAN ARRESTED AND FINED

John Komeiski Violates Laws Regulating Public Eating Places

PAYS $10 FINE AND COSTS

Another Trevose restaurant and camp proprietor has been arrested and taken before a Justice by Anthony Russo, of Bristol, who is the health officer for Bensalem Township.

John Komeiski, who conducts a restaurant and camp, along the Lincoln Highway, was fined $10 and costs amounting to $4.90, making $14.90 in all.

Komeiski was warned that he must comply with the health laws regulating the public eating places. These laws specify that the eating places must be sanitary and clean and that all employees must have certificates of health from physicians. Even after being told what to do Komeiski failed to comply and was taken into custody. He was given a hearing before Justice Rigby at Cornwells.

This is the second arrest made of restaurant owners in Bensalem Township during the past week for violation of the same law, by Health Officer Russo.

VISITING IN BOSTON

G. W. Croner, of Benson Place, is spending today and the week-end in Boston, Mass., attending the annual reunion of the Third Division of which he was a member during the World War.

Anita Zug, of 215 Jackson street, who is visiting her grandparents in Lancaster, has been ill with measles. Mrs. Zug spent the week-end in Lancaster.

FOUR-DAY TOUR IS OUTLINED THRU DEL. WATER GAP

Trip Will Pass Through The Palisades in New York To Albany

DELIGHTFUL SCENERY

Motorists Will Enjoy Taking This Trip Some Week-End

A delightful four-day motor vacation is offered this week by the Keystone Automobile Club through the Delaware Water Gap, the Palisades in New York to Albany, west through the Cherry Valley region to the Finger Lakes, with a return route on the recently completed Sullivan Trail to Mount Pocono.

"The club has been very careful to route motorists over good roads in this tour," said Russell B. Carty, representative of the Keystone Automobile Club in Bristol. "There is a slight deviation from the route in the City of Catskill, due to some construction work, but outside of this, the entire trip is one of pleasurable driving on excellent roads."

From Bristol, pass through Langhorne, Newtown and Buckingham to Doylestown. Take the Lackawanna Trail from Doylestown to Easton, the Delaware Water Gap, and East Stroudsburg, where the Milford Pike is met. Bear right onto the Milford Pike and drive through some of the finest wild country in the State, dotted with small farms and summer cottages, to Port Jervis.

From Port Jervis drive to Middletown, and take the middle fork to Montgomery, where you bear right to Newburgh. Here the scenic Storm King Highway is met. This famous trail leads through the Palisade section, for which New York is justly famed, and through the beautiful Catskill region, noted in the legends and stories of the land. Drive on to Albany, where it is suggested that the first day's trip end.

The next day, the trip over the Cherry Valley Turnpike is started. It is the straightest road from Albany west to Syracuse. The entire section is teeming with interest. Over this pike, the old time stages and covered wagons were wont to pass.

Drive through Guilford, Fullers, Dunnsville, Duanesburg and Schoharie Creek to Esperance, where the ancient covered bridge is preserved by the State. Continue on through Carlisle to Sharon, where Indians scalped a boy, who lived to the ripe age of 70 years.

Pass on to Cherry Valley, founded in 1739. In 1778, Indians and Tories, banded against the Revolutionists, massacred the inhabitants and burned the town. Drive on to Springfield, where for a short stretch we leave the pike.

Turn left through East Springfield along the lake shores of Otsego, the "Glimmerglass," to Cooperstown. On the road, the famous Leatherstocking Falls will be seen.

Cooperstown is reputed to be the spot where baseball, the American sport, was originated. Around this community, James Fenimore Cooper based his famous historical novels on Indian life.

Drive back to Springfield and turn left into the Turnpike. Pass through Richfield Springs, to Sangerfield, where the formerly popular "hops" were raised. Here is the "Great Swamp," where famous robber bands made their headquarters. Continue to Madison, where there is a "glacial kettle hole" or lake. At Hamilton, a short distance south is the campus of Colgate University.

Pass on through Morrisville, Nelson, Cazenovia, where there is a beautiful lake. Oran, Manlius, seat of the famous military school, and Fayetteville to Syracuse, the end of the second day's trip.

The next day is devoted to touring through the beautiful Finger Lakes country. Follow State Route 5 to Auburn, and then take State Route 40 to Ithaca. Here is the campus of Cornell University. A short distance from Ithaca are the Buttermilk Falls, a pretty sight with a rich background.

From Ithaca, drive west to Mecklenburg, turn right to Trumansburg, where the Taughannock Falls are located, pass on to Inter-Lakes and Ovid where you turn sharp left onto the Seneca Lake Road, and follow the lake shore to Watkins Glen. Just below are the Montour Falls. After a day spent rambling in the lake country, start back to Bristol.

Drive south to Elmira where the Sullivan Trail is met. This route is becoming increasingly popular with motorists, as it affords a short cut to western New York. Pass on to Waverly, and bear right to Sayre. Pass thru North Towanda. Towanda and Wyalusing to Tunkhannock. Here we bear

Fortune Teller Will Give Fete Patrons Information

Many fortunes will be learned through the aid of a young woman from the Gypsy Tea Room, Philadelphia, when the lawn fete is continued at the Harriman Hospital this afternoon and evening and Saturday afternoon and night. This fortune-teller, well versed in the mystic art, will give forth much information regarding the future.

Coupled with the tricks of magician Edward Brooks, a Bristol resident, to-night and tomorrow night, and the fashion show on the remaining two evenings, the attractions will be well worth while.

The many models of automobiles displayed by local dealers are attracting many to the grounds in the sixth ward. The latest style machines of a fine variety of makes are on exhibition, with a representative at each booth.

Tasty refreshments are to be had, as well as a splendid aggregation of merchandise. A corps of men and women are at the various positions where articles are placed on sale, ready to serve the public.

By T. M. Juno

A special meeting of the Bristol Twilight League managers and directors, was held in the A. O. H. Hall last night. In the absence of President "Dave" Landreth, Vice-President John Boyle conducted the meeting.

The resignation of the Caseys' ball team from the league was read and accepted. Indifferences between the manager and players caused the team to disband.

ACCORDING TO FORMULA

For party harmony the Democratic party was driven to the adoption of a platform compromisingly equivocal on every major issue of the forthcoming campaign. Only a hopelessly weak and evasive campaign could have won the united endorsement of groups as bitterly hostile as the several factions of the Democratic party. One strong plank on any of the major issues to be decided in November would have split the party beyond repair.

Sweet words that commit the party to nothing are the soothing syrup the party offers the farmer. Its agricultural plank does not even give the assurance that the great body of taxpayers, in which the wheat, corn and cotton growers are in the minority, will not be burdened with a farm-relief tax for the benefit of a handful of speculators in farm lands.

The Democratic ticket and platform present the ludicrous spectacle of a presidential nominee pledged to support a prohibition plank to which he is antagonistic. Governor Smith is for repeal of the Volstead law and has vigorously opposed state enforcement in New York state.

Six years tardy is Democracy in its war on "pillage and privilege." President Coolidge and his party accomplished six years ago what the Democrats promise to do now. The Democratic convention, keynote speech and platform present a picture of an enterprising boy throwing mud on a clean rug that he may have the job of cleaning it.

The platform was drawn according to the traditional Democratic formula—nine parts condemnation of everything Republican to one part political bunk.

ADVERTISING AIDS ALL

Newspaper advertising and the automobile have combined to bring city shops to the very door of the farm house and the suburban home. Each day the newspapers bring a complete quotation of what can be bought, where it can be purchased and the prices at which it can be purchased. The sale is actually made through the advertising columns of the newspaper. A visit to the store next day by automobile completes the exchange of money for merchandise.

How much more convenient is this contrivance of modern commercial and industrial genius to the inefficient method of our rural forebears who knew only their personal needs. With them there was no alternative for the slow, tedious and disappointing expedient of going to town by wagon or cart and trusting to diligence and a stout pair of shoes to seek out the shop which sold that which they were in need of and which sold it at an acceptable price, if not at the lowest obtainable price.

The merchants in the cities and towns need not have debated over the inroads of the mail order houses before the day of the automobile and of persistent newspaper advertising. The mail order houses provided the rural and suburban buyer with a store—if only on paper—in which to plan his buying. Newspaper advertising is now offering the service formerly offered by the catalogs of the mail order houses but in addition is furnishing this service daily instead of twice yearly, is giving the buyer the choice of prices and goods of all merchants not those of one, and is rendering a valuable 24 hour service in assisting the public to determine its wants.

THE WORLD HAS A NEW AND FINER MOTOR CAR

Salon Body Designs

The new Salon Body design for the new "400" series was developed after extended personal study by Mr. Nash himself of the latest creations by European body artists of international fame.

Original ideas in body artistry were co-ordinated with the most modern developments revealed in foreign and American Salons.

And the Salon Nash design is the perfected result—a new body type of the most modern beauty.

It could fittingly adorn a chassis priced at many thousands of dollars.

Nash invested a fortune in dies and machinery to create it.

But you may avail yourself of it on a line of cars notably moderate in price.

In body design, as in other important features, Nash has again outstripped all competition.

The World has a new and finer motor car—with a radically new and finer type of body.

SPORT NEWS OF THE DAY

DISCARDS FROM BIG LEAGUES IN COMEBACK

By Davis J. Walsh
I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 13.—Rabbit Maranville's resurrection from the living death that old timers in the minor leagues must and do die is a multi-sided romance, the main theme of which revolves around the story of a man who beat the toughest opponent in the world—himself. However, at least one chapter of the tale might well ignore the theme note for the moment and devote itself to the fact that Maranville once played with the Chicago Cubs and is now a member of the St. Louis Cardinals.

There isn't much significance to this statement until it is amplified by the remark that Cub castoffs have survived the sad parting to make baseball history in St. Louis. The inference constitutes no slight on Chicago intelligence, either; it simply has been Fate's decree that men who outlasted their welcome in Chicago became indispensable to the success of the St. Louis club during the harvest seasons of 1926 to 1928 more or less inclusive.

Maranville has come back via Brooklyn and the International League to take over Thevenow's position in the Cardinal infield. He previously wasn't wanted anywhere. Therefore, the Cubs hardly can be held blameless in this case; they merely concurred in a unanimous verdict.

Alexander was kicked out of Chicago because he thought training was something you did on a railroad. He passed to St. Louis with no other bidders visible in the offing and what he did for the Cards during the 1926 season and the ensuing world series is history. Training or no training, Joe McCarthy probably would have been able to restrain his distemper in the Alexander matter if Old Pete had been a winning pitcher at the time. But he wasn't; in fact, he looked the part of a passe specimen who didn't have the gumption to protect a good thing. The incident of his transfer to St. Louis was the best thing that could have happened to him in the circumstances, for it awakened a dormant ambition.

The next exhibit is the last, making only three, all told. But what a thumping big three they are.

Bob O'Farrell also was eased out of Chicago to become famous in St. Louis. I think this happened in the Killefer regime and the reason is generally understood to have been incompatibility. In this connection, it is significant that when O'Farrell was named manager of the Cardinals early in 1927, Killefer quietly packed his duffle and moved over to the Browns. Anyhow, it doesn't injure my story that O'Farrell since has been traded to the Giants, for he left behind him the record of having been one of three great factors in the Cardinals' success of 1926. So effective was his contribution that he was named the league's most valuable player for that season almost by a unanimous vote.

Alexander, O'Farrell, Maranville! I wonder what the Cubs would give for them now. As a matter of fact, they probably wouldn't take them with trading stamps. Some men would rather be right than be successful and I think Joe McCarthy is one of them.

land cohorts in their fifth. Jones tapped to Lake. Cooper lifted to Dougherty. Connors' smash was stopped by Lake, who threw him out.

Dougherty's proteges failed to count again in their part. Lake grounded to Riola. Thompson fanned. Dougherty got a hit to right. Margerum struck out.

Leedom's failed to score in their final. Fine collected his third straight hit. Fine was caught off first. White walked. Rodgers made a nice running catch of Riola's short fly. Mangan forced White.

J. Brady whiffed to begin the Hibernians' last. McGinley hit to Jones. Riola came up with Holden's grounder and threw him out.

which will be staged by the S. S. Sunday School class of the Tacony M. E. Church. The class, taught by Mr. Steelman, is comprised of about 30 young men. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Croydon edifice.

Tickets have been on sale for some time, and the public's patronage is solicited. The Rev. George C. Shoe is pastor of the local congregation.

Sun's Rays and Water Combined Bring Out Varied Colors of Rainbow in Form of Many Bathing Costumes bridge resembles a clothes-line, with every conceivable piece of costume imaginable hanging thereon. When the youngsters have finished their swim they sit in the rays of "Old Phoebe" for a short time, till the bathing costume is dry enough to permit the donning of the outer garments. It is safe to say dark blue trunks answer for underwear for many a kid on vacation from school.

Wending his way to the basin yesterday one boy attracted much attention by carrying a coil of clothes-line. He soon informed his questioners, however, that it was not for use in case of a water-accident, but merely as an easier means of carrying his bathing-costume, which was later seen to be dangling from the end.

If sun-baths are healthy, there should be few ill boys and girls in Bristol borough. On the walk in back of the Elks' home they line up, prone upon their stomachs, drinking in whatever violet rays they are able to secure from Sol. These sun-baths are alternated every few minutes with a Delaware River bath.

Taking all precautions so as not to swallow any more canal water than necessary, one young miss was thoughtfully watched here yesterday. After swinging her arms thirteen times (the number was closely counted) she finally held her nose and jumped in feet first. Five minutes was all that was needed for her to recover.

Burlington Island Beach attracts many, while dozens are seen each day at the several bridges that span the canal.

A group of young men, while enjoying the sport in the Neshaminy at Hulmeville park, played follow the leader, executing many dives. Roars of laughter were produced when the youngest of the crowd, climbing to the highest diving board, imitated Charlie Chaplin. The procedure was simple, but the result amusing. Placing one hand upon the top of his head and the second upon his hip, he proceeded to walk off the platform, keeping his feet moving up and down till he struck the water.

A sure-cure for hot-weather blues and that warm tired feeling, is a dip in the nearest pool, say Bristol's aquatic "sports."
